

MOLES

Moles will tunnel through properties often along foundations, curbs, and walkways looking for grubs, crickets and earth worms as well as various sources of food. There is no effective chemical control for moles. Applying grub killer is ineffective and inappropriate use for the environment as moles will hunt for food live or dead. Mechanical traps can be purchased at hardware stores and garden centers and are the most effective measures available. The tunnels from the moles will eventually settle back down from rainfall, irrigation and traffic.
